Life Rhythm™ – Inside

Congratulations with your purchase of Life Rhythm™ – Inside, the first scientific solution for electrosmog related complaints.

Introduction

After many years of research we have found a mineral that absorbs energy from different parts of the electromagnetic spectrum and emits energy in a specific band of the spectrum: the far infrared. This kind of radiation restores higher-order architecture of molecules according to our physical model - essential for a good functioning of biochemical reactions in the human body - that has been disturbed by mobile phones, WiFi and UMTS. Blockades causing physical complaints like stress, tiredness/fatigue, headache, dizziness and loss of concentration are neutralized.

Extensive internal (double blind) research has shown that the mineral can relieve and prevent physical complaints caused by exposure to non-thermal electromagnetic radiation.

We have processed the mineral in several products. You can carry these products with you or attach them to radiation sources like smartphones, tablets and routers. In this way our products can contribute to decrease physical complaints and to a more energetic life.

User's manual

Life Rhythm™ – Inside in your smartphone, laptop, tablet or other wireless device effectively works against radiation emitted by the device.

Life Rhythm™ – Inside is an aluminium layer on which our mineral has been deposited in an optimal (dried) configuration for enhanced effect. The product – activated by the radiation source on which it has been placed – can be applied on (or attached to) the battery at the inside of several wireless devices.

Life Rhythm™ – Inside remains effective indefinitely and no saturation will take place.

General recommendations to limit exposure to electromagnetic radiation:

- Do not carry your mobile phone directly on your body.
- While setting up a connection your mobile phone emits much more radiation than during the telcon itself. Therefore wait with placing the phone at your ear until the connection has been made.
- Instead of placing the mobile phone at your ear we recommend you to use the speaker of the phone.

- Do not keep your mobile phone close to you at night. At night we advise to use the flight mode of the phone. When using the flight mode the device does not emit radiation and you can still use the phone as an alarm clock.
- Switch off your WiFi-router if not in use (For example at night).
